Re: Service to FEMA's 24th Annual Emergency Management Higher Education Symposium

Dear Ratul Debnath,

The FEMA Higher Education Program would like to extend an appreciative and sincere thank you for your service as a student volunteer at the 24th Annual FEMA Emergency Management Higher Education Symposium, June 6-9, 2022. As a student volunteer you provided a myriad of important tasks that helped the Symposium run smoothly such as helping with registration, conveying critical logistical information throughout the Symposium, participating in breakout sessions, supporting Q&A for plenary sessions, and supporting the Higher Education Program Manager and staff.

Your participation in the Symposium shows the academic and practitioner communities that a new generation of emergency managers will soon be ready and is certainly willing to serve their nation. We offer this letter to recognize the significant contribution you have provided to the emergency management academic community. Thank you for your service.

Sincerely,

Kelly Fitzgerald
